So proud of our 3rd semester ADN students, Yadira, Gabby, and Blanca, who are with me at the World of Work Youth Expo in Abilene, Texas. They are teaching students about health issues, AND recruiting!

Thanks for your patience while we were closed this week and thanks especially to the baseball players who helped us move furniture. Great work guys! Everyone be sure to drop by to see our new carpet. It looks amazing!

While we work through the changes to TexShare, I want to draw your attention to some of our other subscription resources in the A-Z List on the website, specifically America's NewsBank and the Chronicle of Higher Education. That last may be of interest to our faculty – keep up with what is going on in the world of higher ed, including new theories and technologies that can help in your classroom. You can get passwords from a librarian or on our homepage on the How to Access the Ranger College Databases and Usage Tips. Just like students, staff and faculty need to be logged in to their Ranger College email to access our password list.

What to do this weekend: It is already time to start thinking about Christmas. There are HollyDays festivals all over the state and this week's is close at hand in Waco. Well, at least as close as they get.

As part of our International Year, this week we are celebrating South Africa with its Hermanus Whale Festival. In its 31st year the annual Hermanus Whale Festival is a celebration of the return of the southern right whales to the coastal waters of South Africa. It is a tribute to the legacy left to the town by Wendy the Whale whose story is about man's ability to live in harmony with nature as well as people's ability to come together as communities valuing the environment. All events and activities during the whale festival are focused to create awareness on how to protect the whales and all our marine wildlife who share our coastal waters. The festival takes place at the end of September which is the peak of whale activity in the region

Motivational Quote of the Week

Tell me and I'll forget; show me
and I may remember; involve
me and I'll understand.
